Love Your Neighborhood, Love to Volunteer

A Message from Richard Gravois, ZNA Co-president

"It's eleven o'clock. Do you know where your children are?" Do you remember that commercial from the seventies? Try this version: "It's eleven o'clock. Do you know where your parents are?" A lot of us have moved into the other side of the caring equation and need to look for assisted living or a nursing home for our parents.

One way to make senior living a little more pleasant is to volunteer at the closest nursing home. You may not know anyone there, and your parents may be many miles away, but if we each spend a few hours a month visiting with these neighbors, each little bit helps. Barton Hills Assisted Living at Kinney and Nash has many volunteer tasks, and the staff is very (Continued on page 10)

Meet the New Parks Director

Sara Hensley began her parks career in Austin's lifeguard program, and she's been working her way back to Austin for the last, well, I'll let her tell you how many years it's been. Last year she was hired as the city's director of Parks and Recreation. ZNA's general meeting on February 23 will be our chance to welcome her home, and to talk with her about priorities for the parks budget.

There should also be time to continue our conversation about the management of the big four events (Trail of Lights, Kite Festival, Fourth of July, and Austin City Limits Music Festival) that affect so many Zilker neighbors.

Don't Miss These Park Events

March 7: Friends of Zilker Neighborhood Park, Spring Work Day. Last year the Friends of ZNP added 66 new trees to the City of Austin neighborhood park adjacent to Zilker Elementary School (known as Little Zilker Park). Unfortunately, those plantings coincided with the worst drought since the fifties. To provide some extra TLC for the trees, FZNP is organizing a mulch and water day for the citywide It's My Park Day on March 7. That's the first Saturday in March, from 9 AM to 1 PM. The main activity for the Little Zilker event will be to mulch all the trees on the City of Austin parkland. We will also give a good soak to the trees planted before last year, on both the city parkland and the school campus. The trees planted last year have been on a regular watering schedule, but the older trees are likely to need a boost. Volunteers will be encouraged to adopt one or more of these trees and learn how to water them once a month until the drought breaks.

We will need rakes, wheelbarrows, and shovels to move and spread the mulch. If you want to learn how to water a tree, bring a hose. All volunteers should wear work gloves and work shoes, and it's always a good idea to bring a water bottle and a hat. This is one event that we would love to see rained out, so if you have any tips for making it rain, bring those too.

To sign up, e-mail littlezilker@gmail.com or call Gina at 413-3335; please let us know what equipment you can bring. Find out more about It's My Park Day from the Austin Parks Foundation Web site at austinparks.org/.

Feb. 19: Auditorium Shores Improvements, Parks and Recreation Dept. Community Input Meeting. This has gotten some news coverage, mainly about the leash-free dog zone. It also affects the Town Lake Park Master Plan, Phases 3 & 4, that many Zilker neighbors want to see completed. Town Lake Center, 721 Barton Springs Road, 6 PM.

Feb. 28 and March 7: Barton Springs Pool Cleaning. Friends of Barton Springs Pool is sponsoring a volunteer pool cleaning event during the annual spring cleaning shutdown of the pool. The pool is scheduled to be shut down from Monday Feb. 23 to Friday March 13. FBSP is organizing volunteers to clean the pool on two Saturdays, Feb. 28 and March 7. If you are interested, contact service@friendsofbartonspringspool.org. By the way, in connection with the master plan for Barton Springs Pool, surveyors and engineers are determining the condition of the pool infrastructure. Attention is currently focused on the problems of the bypass tunnel. Stay in touch with Friends of Barton Springs Pool for updates.

Looking for Crime in Zilker

by Dave Piper

In response to numerous emails and conversations about home and car burglaries in the Zilker Neighborhood, the ZNA Executive Committee solicited volunteers and formed a crime subcommittee to look at the types of crimes, their location and frequency, and what could be done to reduce Zilker crime. The Austin Police Department keeps crime statistics, of course, but they are not necessarily focused on the area of our neighborhood. The best source of crime stats I could find was at SpotCrime.com. The SpotCrime Web site lists public crime reports by date, time, and type and displays them on a map.

Through SpotCrime, I was able to find Zilker data for the last eight months and organize it into reports on South Lamar and Barton Springs Road, separate from reports on the interior of the neighborhood. For both areas, burglaries of homes and businesses, burglaries of vehicles, theft, and assaults all seem to fluctuate month to month, but the overall trend shows that the rate of any of these types of crimes is relatively constant. There are some spikes (good and bad) at certain times. For a more detailed look, see the summary at www.main.org/znaweb/crime/. In the future, anyone can look at the Zilker Neighborhood area at SpotCrime.com and see how crime rates compare to the last eight-month period.

The subcommittee has visited with APD, and Officer Dwayne Kinley has accepted our invitation to speak at the February 23 ZNA meeting. He will explain what we neighbors can do to reduce crime (including Neighborhood Watch), and he will answer questions. Also, APD has a statistician dedicated to the Southwest District, of which Zilker Neighborhood is a part. Whenever there is a hot spot, a special APD unit can be directed to the area for an investigative focus and to make their presence known. Hot spots are determined by citizen reports of crime or suspicions of crime, so it is important that we all report suspicious activity or persons by calling 311. These calls have their own special tracking code, which brings them to the attention of the APD statisticians who determine the hot spots. (If you see a crime in progress call 911, though, for an emergency response.)

Chimney Swifts for Zilker by Kim McKnight

This spring, listen for high-pitched musical chip notes strung together into a rapid twitter. Then look up and try to find the “flying cigar.” These are Chimney Swifts, and the Zilker neighborhood is about to become an even friendlier place for these little birds. The chimney of an old incinerator building adjacent to Zilker Elementary School is being retrofitted to provide a Chimney Swift roosting site. The project has been spearheaded by the Friends of Zilker Neighborhood Park and the Urban Habitat Committee of Travis Audubon. We are grateful for the support of the Zilker Elementary School principal, Randall Thomson. This project has also received extensive support from Paul and Georgean Kyle of the Driftwood Wildlife Association, a Chimney Swift habitat. For more information about this project, email kimmcknight@austin.rr.com or call 445-4323.

Why should I care about Chimney Swifts?

- ◆ Chimney Swifts eat nearly one third of their own weight in flying insect pests, such as mosquitoes, biting flies, and termites, every day.
- ◆ Chimney Swifts historically used large, hollow trees for nests and roosts. As the ancient forests were cut down, they learned to use chimneys and other built structures instead. Today, just like Purple Martins, Chimney Swifts rely almost entirely on human-built structures for their nest sites.
- ◆ Because they cannot perch like songbirds, Chimney Swifts must have deep shafts in which to raise - their families and roost at night.

- ◆ Chimney Swifts are protected by State Wildlife Codes and federal law under the Migratory Bird Treaty Act of 1916.
- ◆ Like all Neotropical migrants, Chimney Swifts are declining in numbers and need our assistance. Chimney Swifts winter in the Amazon Basin of Peru. They arrive in the continental United States in late March and are gone by early November.
- ◆ Like watching a beautiful sunset, the aesthetic value of observing Chimney Swifts' aerial acrobatics and interactions is a simple pleasure that nature has to offer.

Zilker Holidays Glow Brighter, Thanks to You

by Barbara Cossie, Holiday Family Program Coordinator

Eight families had a happier holiday this past December through ZNA's Holiday Family Program. Over the last eleven years, ZNA has sponsored 63 families through holiday programs. That record of generosity reflects a fundamental part of our neighborhood's character.

"This holiday program is a real blessing to the families the ZNA sponsors," said Kaye Trybus, one of the holiday helpers. "Without the help of the Zilker Neighborhood Association, these families would not have much of a Christmas. So I am glad we can all pull together to help them."

Making the program work takes many hands and many hearts. Thank you to all the Zilker neighbors who donated money, toys, clothes, and household items last year. The program raises about $2,000 a year, which is used to buy gifts and gift cards for the sponsored families. Last year, said Kaye, "With the money donated, we were even able to buy a bunkbed for one family. The kids were sleeping on the floor."

All the families had children that attended Zilker Elementary School. They are selected by the school counselor, who keeps track of families in need in the school community and helps them put together their wish lists. She always knows more families who need help than ZNA can sponsor with our two-month fall campaign.

In anticipation of even greater needs during tough economic times, the ZNA executive committee asks that you remember the Holiday Family Program throughout the year. You can help us build up the fund now by adding a donation when you renew your ZNA membership, or give a donation to honor a family member or a friend's birthday or anniversary. As always, your donations to the program will be used to purchase gifts and gift cards for the sponsored families in December, but donations made before November will also allow us to plan ahead with the school counselor to help as many families as possible. Just fill out the form below and send in your donation.

Thank you to Lorraine Atherton, Mike Meier, Bobby Rigney, Kaye Trybus, and Steve Weichert, our Zilker Santa's helpers who shopped, wrapped, and delivered presents. Thank you to Andy Elder, ZNA treasurer, who kept track of the financial donations. Thank you to Peggy at Austin Furniture Outlet on Oltorf Street, who made the bunkbed affordable for the Holiday Family Program. Most of all, thank you to the many neighbors who donated to the program. Without all of you, the program would not be the success it is.

capable of matching volunteers and tasks.

Steve Barnick, a former ZNA officer, is organizing a way to volunteer on your own block: "Neighbors, anyone in need of help getting their blue recycling cans to the street or wanting to volunteer to help those in need of assistance please contact Steve Barnick at ding\_dong\_slb@yahoo.com or leave a message at phone number 444-0674. Our goal will be to pair up folks in need with neighbors willing to help so that Zilker is the leader in recycling." Staying in touch with older neighbors is an important part of Neighborhood Watch programs, according to our police district representative (see page 4), and helping with weekly trash and recycling pickups is one of the most common icebreakers in that regard. It works both ways: you can help out your older neighbor once a week, and your stay-at-home neighbor can keep an eye on your home while you are away.

The benefits of volunteerism spread far beyond the neighborhood's boundaries, but ZNA can't survive without it. The purpose of ZNA is "to seek to improve the quality of life in the neighborhood in matters of land use, environmental protection, public services, consumer protection, preservation of the historic and unique character of the community; to provide support in other matters of neighborhood concern; and to promote and participate in the civic life of the city" (from the ZNA bylaws).

The association relies directly and entirely on neighbors who volunteer their time to research issues, craft recommendations, and represent our interests at city hall.

Over the last several years, most of that volunteer time has been consumed by zoning and land use issues. Now that the boom is over and we are facing tough economic times, we hope we can refocus on the charitable organizations and nonprofit efforts that are so important to Zilker's quality of life. To those of you who have been volunteering all these years, thank you for making Zilker such a neighborly place to live. If you are new to the neighborhood and want to join in the spirit of volunteerism, check out this partial list of volunteer opportunities:

Although ZNA is a nonprofit, it primarily represents its members in governmental and political arenas and therefore is not eligible for charitable tax deductions. Most of the fundraising efforts that we support, however, have separate accounts administered through groups like the Austin Parks Foundation, which do have tax-exempt status. If you plan on making a donation to a ZNA program and would like that donation to be tax deductible, please ask about making the donation directly to a charitable organization, rather than ZNA.

Zilker Gets Out the Vote

In the November election, voter turnout for Zilker precinct 332 was 75%, 10 points above the citywide turnout of 65%. Precinct 462 (east of Kinney) also beat the average, with 67% turnout. The best news is that both precincts, which already had a high registration rate, increased their number of registered voters by more than 5% between the May and November elections in 2008. The two precincts combined had 4428 registered voters in November. Of the 3197 votes cast, the Obama-Biden ticket won 80% in Precinct 462 and 83% in Precinct 332.

Your next chance to vote will be in the City Council elections in May. Turnout for last year's city elections was abysmal: 19% in 332, 9% in 462, and only 10% citywide.

Twin Oaks Branch Library Delay: A revised construction schedule provided by the general contractor in January has moved the planned opening of the new branch library at Mary and S. Fifth from August to October 2009. The Library Department will closely monitor the performance of this contractor. Work expected in the upcoming weeks includes site work, concrete work, retention pond and irrigation piping, concrete sidewalks, structural steel corrections, steel roof decking installation, steel angle and metal plate connections for the wood trusses, and replacement of the rejected north retaining wall. ci.austin.tx.us/library/cip.htm
